

Sales Position Open of agricultural irrigation pivots. John Bell Construction in Hodgenville, Kentucky is a Valley Irrigation products dealer and looking to expand our sales force in the central Kentucky area. This position would include: cold call sales, in person sales visits and creating sales proposals. Applicants should have: good time management skills, a pleasant personality, ability to multitask different projects at once, clean driving record, and ability to develop professional relationships with customers. Pay will be determined based upon applicant and will include a mixture of flat rate and commission from sales. Previous agricultural sales experience preferred but not mandatory. If interested, please send resume to john@jbellconstruction.com or call 270-766-8448.